Kingston Heath

For the past ten years, Kingston Heath Golf Course has been home to the Let's Beat Bowel Cancer Golf Classic. From the inaugural Cabrini 'Bottom Line' Classic in 2005 the event has grown and evolved into an outstanding corporate and charity golf day event, of which Cabrini is exceptionally proud.

As one of Australia's most outstanding golf courses 'the Heath' has ensured an exceptional golfing and dining experience every year since the inception of this wonderful event. Home to the 2012 Australian Masters, Kingston Heath Golf Club enjoys an enviable reputation for its superb conditioning all year round.

The 18 holes were built on only 125 acres (most modern courses are built on over 250 acres), it is perfectly manicured and its bunkering and clever use of dips and hollows visually fools the non-observant golfer.

Kingston Heath Golf Club has hosted The Australian Open on seven occasions in the past 100 years. In November 2009, the eyes of the world were also on Kingston Heath, when a star-studded international field of top professional players – including Tiger Woods and Geoff Ogilvy – converged on the course for Australia's premier tournament, The Australian Masters.

We hope you will join us and experience the magic of 'the Heath'.
